

Mandala Coloring Collection: 50 of the best mandalas from Dont Eat the Paste

Dont Eat the Paste is a popular place for mandalas because of the wide range of styles drawn by artist Shala Kerrigan. Pictorial, geometric, knotwork, inspired by history, super intricate and nice big spaces- there is something for nearly every skill level and interest. For the first time ever, 50 mandalas from the popular blog are available in a book. Each mandala is printed on its own page, with the facing page having a quote, a note from the author or a joke to go with the mandala. That way there are no blank pages in the book, but its also not just placeholder text. Its something added to think about and enjoy. So its a collection of quotes as well as being a collection of mandalas to color. The mandalas include bats, hearts, dolphins, geometric designs, bunnies, flowers and more.
