

David Bellamy has a tremendous following among amateur painters and in this comprehensive, practical guide he shows the reader how to paint his favourite subject – wild landscapes. It will enable artists of all levels to tackle this fascinating subject with confidence. Having travelled extensively in India, the Himalayas, the Middle East, Africa, the USA and Europe, David Bellamy has painted in many remote and beautiful places. In this book he shares some of those extraordinary painting experiences with the reader. The book is both a practical and an inspirational guide to painting mountains, deserts, jungle, gorges and other wilderness areas. It contains many tips and techniques for watercolour painting, not only for all those who enjoy painting in wild places but also for all those armchair artists who would like to paint wilder landscapes but don't want to trek into the wilderness to do it.
